

Digital Forensics Investigation

We live in a digital era where almost everyone possesses at least a couple of electronic devices, which allow cybercrime to be committed much more easily. That is why Digital Forensics Investigation becomes growingly important for protecting the data stored in your devices.

HERALD excels at Digital Forensics Investigation with:

- Professional data analysts
- Top tools of computer forensics
- Expertise in identifying the source of confidential information leaks
- Data analysis as convincing evidence in court to facilitate further legal actions
- Data recovery service to unveil your desired information

Our service can be a great assistance in areas such as:

- Investigation of business fraud, data theft and identity theft
- Matrimonial Investigation
- Background Check
- Asset Search
- Due Diligence

Step 1: Evidence Acquisition

Our investigators will do the following once we have obtained the concerned devices:

- Inspect and preserve the stored data
- Acquire relevant information to be used as evidence
- Check if any data is damaged or lost

Step 2: Data Recovery (if necessary)

Digital evidence may be intentionally modified, encrypted, damaged or deleted in attempt to cover up tracks of crimes, deceits or unfaithfulness. Hence, we will take the following procedures:

- Recover data in digital applications such as SMS, messaging applications (e.g. Whatsapp), phone calls, emails, media files, location, web browsing history, etc.
- Reveal critical information including the sender and the recipient of the contents as well as the time when they were created, accessed or deleted

Step 3: Analysis of Digital Data

Having secured important evidence, we will then proceed to:

- Analyse and reconstruct the process of the digital crime
- Prepare a report with precise and comprehensible data analysis in details for easy understanding
